

PLAYING WITH SPACE

Playing with Space is a fantastic photography competition open to nursery and primary school children across the North East of England.

We want you to think about your favourite place outdoors. It can be somewhere you play maybe in the school grounds, a favourite walk or somewhere you like to visit. All you have to do is take a photograph of it and ask your teacher to enter it in this competition.

You could win a digital camera, a big print of your photograph to be displayed at your school and the chance to have your photograph displayed in a proper exhibition. One overall winner will also receive money to spend on making their school playground an even better place to play and learn.

Teachers – an entry pack with full details and a lesson plan is available by emailing playing@colour-udl.com. Photographs can be digital or hard format and must be sent clearly marked with the child's name, class, school and contact details. Go on – get playing with space and you could improve your school grounds!

REGIONS:

- Newcastle, North Tyneside and Northumberland
- Gateshead and South Tyneside
- Sunderland & Durham • Tees Valley

Prizes

30 runners up - will have their photograph professionally mounted and displayed in an exhibition, and auctioned.

Four regional prizes - will be awarded a digital camera for the child and large format print of winning entry for the school.

One overall winning school will receive the auction funds to spend on their own school grounds.

Closing date Friday 7 April 2006.

supported by:
Creative Partnerships